

Where the sprinkling of the blood is

Fulness of the Spirit — As the Ointment

265

(Guitar: Capo 3)

1. Where the sprin- kling of the blood is, There the oint- ment doth re - main;
Man in touch with God thus bring - ing, These the fel - low - ship main - tain.

2. Blood, the emblem of redemption,
Cleansing all the sins away;
Ointment, symbol of the Spirit,
Bringing God to man for aye.
3. Blood doth speak of what God worketh,
Ointment, what He is for us;
By His work and by His person
God Himself is blent with us.
4. By the blood of Christ's redemption
We are cleansed from all alloy;
By th' anointing of the Spirit
God Himself we may enjoy.
5. By the cleansing and anointing
We with God are kept in one;
By the blood and by the ointment
God, our portion full, is won.
6. We in faith must claim the cleansing
When we need the precious blood,
Ever to obey th' anointing,
Thus to live and walk with God.
7. God as light we'll then be knowing,
God experience as love,
And in God as life e'er growing,
God as power we will prove.
