(Guitar: Capo 1)

1. Hav - ing seen the world's fair beau - ty, Lord, I would be blind once more,
Lest I lose the lov - ing Pre - sence And De-light I knew be - fore.

Chorus
(C) Hav - ing seen the world's fair beau - ty, Lord, I would be blind once more,
Lest I lose the lov - ing Pre - sence And De-light I knew be - fore.

2. Dawn and sunset, star and moonlight,
I can see in paradise,
But while here on earth His mercy
For my blindness will suffice.
3. I no more would be delivered
From my thorn, but look for grace,
While within the veil His glory
Shineth brightly on my face.
4. In the deep dark night, His beauty
I by faith, not sight, may trace;
He was ridiculed and hated,
Yet I see His glorious face.
5. Sun and moonlight far surpassing,
Clouds and Milky Way o'erspread,
Is the glory all transcending
Shining from His thorn-crowned head.
