All our de-sire is Thy promised re-turn-ing, Oh, may Thou quick-ly re-turn.
2. Beloved Lord, since the year Thou ascended Everything here has been tasteless and dry; Often in praying and often in watching, In every movement, for Thee, Lord, we sigh.				 5. Whene'er 'tis raining, or strong winds are blowing, Whene'er the moon shines, or rises the sea, We ever hope to discover Thy coming; How disappointed when no sign of Thee!
3. Scenes although lovely, yet when will we meet Thee? Birds and the flowers fair beauty embrace; All are delightsome, but none satisfy me, For I am longing for Thy loving face.				6. If it were not for the bidding Thou gav'st us, We'd be discouraged, Thy service we'd shirk; But Thou dost want us while waiting Thy coming, For Thee to live and in diligence work.
4. Lord, we're impatient awaiting Thy coming, We do not know how much longer 'twill be; From every sunrise to every bright sunset				Sin	7. Oh Lord, remember the days have been lengthened Since Thou hast promised ere going away; We hope and hope and are endlessly hoping,

Hope we each moment Thy coming to see.
