share; But Mary, beholding His tears as He wept, Could touch His heart's agony there. Could touch His heart's agony there.

2. We'll soon see the Lord, as He is, face to face, 4. Oh, chances to suffer for Him are so few, We'll know Him as never before; His shame and derision to bear; But that touch today, healing our broken heart, Such blest opportunities soon pass away, In that day will be felt no more. That He in our troubles may share. That day, though our lips offer unceasing praise, All loneliness, misunderstandings and scorn No tears, then, nor prayers fervent burn; Despisings and sorrows will flee; I treasure these blessings, for through them, O Lord, Nor is there the comfort received through much pain, Nor trust gained through trials to learn, I enter sweet oneness with Thee, I enter sweet oneness with Thee. Nor trust gained through trials to learn. 3. Exceeding in glory, that day we'll be crowned, 5. I long to behold, Lord, Thy countenance soon, Yet there'll be no cross to obey; What rapture with Thee, Lord, to meet. The sweet fellowship of His suffrings for us But neither seek I all these trials to avoid; We only can share in today. Such times, Lord, are too rare and sweet. Once we've that rest entered, no weariness then, Have mercy on me, fill me with Thy great love, Nor chance will remain to partake For Thee, Lord, to live at all cost; The trials nor the hardships, nor happiness lost, Lest Thy servant, hoping for that blessed day, Nor suffering borne for His sake, That day, regret chances were lost, Nor suffering borne for His sake. That day, regret chances were lost.
