Thee. Lord, Your com-pas-sion had drawn me so en-tire-ly. At last, I glimpsed Your beau-ty.

2. I felt so filthy, You shone on my sin.

I asked Your pardon, then You cleansed me from within.

My eyes were opened, now I could see You.

You were more real than anything I ever knew.

And then You freed me—

You hung and died on a tree—

I wasn't even worthy.

Lord, then You found me and rescued me from my sins.

Lord, You are full of mercy.
