Scriptures for Singing

And He hum - bled me and let me go hun - gry and He fed me the man - na, which I had nev - er known nor my fa - thers had ev - er known, so that He might make me know that man lives not by bread a - lone,
man lives not by bread a - lone,
but that man lives by ev - ery - thing that pro - ceeds out from the mouth of Je - ho - vah.

The musical score is written in treble clef with a common time signature (C). The melody is simple and suitable for singing. Chords are indicated by letters above the notes: C, F, Am, G, and G7. The lyrics are placed below the notes, with hyphens indicating syllables that span across multiple notes. The score consists of nine staves, each containing a line of music and its corresponding lyrics. The lyrics are: 'And He hum - bled me and let me go hun - gry', 'and He fed me the man - na,', 'which I had nev - er known nor my fa - thers had ev - er known, so', 'that He might make me know that', 'man lives not by bread a - lone,', 'man lives not by bread a - lone,', 'but that man lives by ev - ery - thing that', and 'pro - ceeds out from the mouth of Je - ho - vah.'
