2. Now in night's darkest hour
The hope of glory shines,
Thy Word a lamp in darkness
Prophetically reminds;
The sureness of Thy coming
As dawn's prevailing ray
Shines brighter, ever brighter,
Unto the perfect day.

3. The echo of the ages
Doth summon Thy return,
Reflecting Thine own promise
From countless hearts that yearn;
Oh, that Thou wouldst give heed, Lord,
To our most fervent plea:
Make haste with Thine appearing
And take us up to Thee!

4. With eyes on the horizon,
Eastward our hearts incline,
Still going forth to meet Thee
Till daybreak's glimmer shines
Rise, Morning Star, within us
Till to the full degree
We'd be with Thee forever
In rapturous ecstasy.
