- 2. O, selfless love! 'Tis never unbecoming; Purest affection "seeks not its own things;" Never provoked, not counting evil doing; Let this love echo forth from my heart's strings.
- 3. O noble love! In righteousness rejoicing, A love that cheers whenever truth is king; It covers all things, and believes it all things, It hopes all things, and will endure all things.
- 4. O lasting love! It fades not, ne'er abating; Timeless and strong, prevails o'er everything; When knowledge fails, and gifts are unavailing; May I be found in its eternal spring.
